

You need to leave Howard Stern alone. He's a voice of the people and you are trying to quiet him. Are you not aware of our rights to free speech anylonger or are you just collectively attempting to have only the voice of the bible-beaters and lying republicians heard? Words are only molecules vibrating in the ear. Quit making them more than that and placing your values on them. I'm tired of it and I know a ton of other people who are too. Open your minds a little more and see that even "cussing" can be a valid form of expression. Maybe not of value to you and the FCC but it sure as hell is to me! -Tax paying citizen
